

“William F. DeVault
is the catalyst poet
of the Digital Renaissance.

Lucent, ardent and contemplative, he gives us for the first time as a volume the original flow of poems that captivated, excited, scandalized and seduced an entire cyber generation.

The Compleat Panther Cycles is a poetic diary that recounts and celebrates a chronology of passion drawn from event to event, where every emotion is larger than life and is authored in rich, haunting stanzas of terrible beauty and eloquent pain and sorrows.

Masterful, in articulations of thought and emotion, this massive volume of poems ushers the reader through an unforgettable and intimate rite of passage...a true trial by fire in deeply textured verses that will be, that is, a treasure for future generations.

These works are the benchmark of literary genius from the Einstein of the human heart.”

-Mari Laureano, author, The Riverman Series

Over six hundred and forty works that tell, in intimate chronology, the rise and fall and death throes of a love affair that transcended both the human condition and physical borders, giving us a new vision of courtly love, of endurance, of hope and passion and compassion. It is a true story, told in earnest and eloquent words.

Parental Warning: May contain some works too intense or erotic for young readers.
